Re: National Secretary/Treasurer's Monthly Report for December 2009

Dear Members:

The first week of December, I participated on the NEC Conference Call and the usual administrative tasks. I also continued the work on the National newsletter the Grapevine, editing articles and getting permission from the FAA Safety Team (FAAST) to reprint their safety tip.

The second week of December I participated on the NEC Conference Call and continued to piece together the articles, pictures, notices, etc... that make up the newsletter. This edition will be printed and mailed to every members address on file with AMFA. I also sent the printer's proof of the Constitution and FAA Enforcement Handbook to the NEC and Rules Committee for a final review prior to printing.

The third week of December the NEC held our weekly Conference Call and I worked to finalize changes and corrections to the Grapevine. I also made preparations for the NEC to meet the first week of January in Phoenix, AZ.

The fourth week of December I participated on the NEC Conference Call. Ensured the printing and mailing of the Grapevine was on schedule, finalized corrections to the FAA Enforcement Handbook and Constitution. These will be printed in January and then distributed to the Locals and posted to the National web site.

The last week of the year after the NEC Conference call, I worked mostly on the usual business of reviewing and approving invoices, expense reports, legal bills, replying to emails and phone calls, as well as other administrative tasks.

Overall 2009 was a challenging year for our Association. However, with the support of the membership approving the change to the Constitution from the May Special Convention, along with the administrative changes and cost savings we have been able to take advantage of, AMFA is in a good financial position to move forward into 2010.

I hope that everyone has a Safe and Happy New Year.

In Solidarity,

Steven A. Nowak
National Secretary/Treasurer
